A Prayer For Mission, from Daily Morning Prayer

I say my daily prayers in various ways, but most usually with the office of Daily Morning Prayer (beginning on page 75 of The Book of Common Prayer). As I have told students for years, it is amazing—and delightful—how much of the Episcopal Church's prayer book is actually from the Bible. One of my favorite, and most concise, examples of this principle is this rather brilliant prayer, from the morning office:

O God, you have made of one blood all the peoples of the earth, and sent your blessed Son to preach peace to those who are far off and to those who are near: Grant that people everywhere may seek after you and find you; bring the nations into your fold; pour out your Spirit upon all flesh; and hasten the coming of your kingdom; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (BCP, page 101)

I do not know a lot about the prayer's author, one George Edward Lynch Cotton (Missionary Bishop to Calcutta, India from 1850-1866), except that he was highly active in the education field. However, I do know the Bible verses within that prayer:

Acts 17.26-28 – From one blood, he made all nations to inhabit the whole earth, and he allotted the times of their existence and the boundaries of the places where they would live, so that they would search for God and perhaps grope for him and find him—though indeed he is not far from each one of us. For 'In him we live and move and have our being'.

Ephesians 2.17 – So he came and proclaimed peace to you who were far off and peace to those who were near.

Isaiah 57.19 – Peace, peace, to the far and the near, says the LORD; and I will heal them.

Joel 2.28 – Then afterward will pour out my spirit on all flesh; your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, and your young men shall see visions.

Acts 2.17 – In the last days it will be, God declares, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh.

For me, the best prayers are like poetry, containing references to the vast scope of God's creation, and yet referring to that wide creation in the most concise way possible. Some of the best prayers are also the most concise. This prayer is considered one of the three prayers "for mission," which is to conclude the prayers of the daily office. So, let us say it often. It expresses our mission most elegantly:

O God, you have made of one blood all the peoples of the earth, and sent your blessed Son to preach peace to those who are far off and to those who are near: Grant that people everywhere may seek after you and find you; bring the nations into your fold; pour out your Spirit upon all flesh; and hasten the coming of your kingdom; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

*Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you,
so that you may be children of your Father in heaven.*

OLD-FASHIONED SUNDAY SCHOOL (ROOM 133)

Do you wonder sometimes what Christians are supposed to believe? This term in the Old Fashioned Sunday School we will explore what the Apostles Creed has to say about the central beliefs of the Christian faith. But, we'll do it in a slightly different way than you may have experienced in the past. Each Sunday, we'll take one of the statements made in the ancient creed and reflect on it through the lens of a more contemporary work. Using David Cunningham's book, Reading is Believing, we'll draw on novels, plays, and films by authors like Dickens, Shakespeare, P. D. James, and Graham Greene to show how the Creed can create and sustain meaning in our lives. Join us. You'll learn about the creed, of course, but we also hope that you'll deepen your own faith in the process. You'll find a light heart and a broad welcome. The class will be led by Canon George Maxwell, Canon Beth Knowlton, and Mack Leath. We look forward to seeing you there.

MARRIAGE CONVERSATIONS (ROOM 121)

Join us for "Marriage Conversations," Sundays through March 30. This course will be an opportunity for couples to get to know each other and share ways to strengthen their marriage. Conversations will be facilitated by selected parishioners and Canon Wallace Marsh. Luke Timothy Johnson to Lead Lenten Series

PRACTICAL CHRISTIANITY: LETTERS FROM THE LETTER OF JAMES

Wednesdays: March 12, 19, 26 and April 2, 9 at 7 p.m. in Child Hall

Dr. Luke Timothy Johnson will lead a five-part Lenten series called Practical Christianity: Letters from the Letter of James.

Possibly the earliest extant Christian composition, the Letter of James is a powerful witness to the Jesus movement in its first years, using the words of Jesus himself to shape its call to a life of integrity in the world. James does not make easy reading for comfortable believers. It uses strong language and it demands hard things of those who wish to follow Jesus, above all that faith be expressed in practical deeds. In this series of presentations, we will consider James' instruction on friendship with the world and friendship with God, on the evils of discrimination among rich and poor, on the power and peril of speech, and on the importance of forming a community of mutual care.

Luke is the Robert W. Woodruff Professor of New Testament and Christian Origins at the Candler School of Theology at Emory University. A former Benedictine monk, he has taught at Yale Divinity School and Indiana University. He is the author of more than 20 books, including The Real Jesus: The Misguided Quest for the Historical Jesus and the Truth of the Traditional Gospels, and The Writings of the New Testament: An Interpretation, which is used widely as a textbook. He has also published several hundred articles and reviews.

THE EMILE FISHER CONCERT

On Saturday, March 29 at 7:30 p.m., Friends of Cathedral Music will present the Emile T. Fisher Concert, featuring performances by the Cathedral Choir and Schola of two twentieth-century choral masterworks: Gerald Finzi's Lo, the Full, Final Sacrifice (1946), and Arvo Pärt's Passio Domini Nostri Jesu Christi Secundum Joannem (1982).

Finzi's extended anthem for choir and organ sets Richard Crashaw's translations of Thomas Aquinas's Eucharistic hymns "Adoro te devote" and "Lauda Sion salvatorem" to music that is harmonically lush and melodically exquisite. Pärt's Passio, arguably the most important musical setting of the passion narrative since J.S. Bach, is by contrast stark and clean.

Five instrumentalists, six soloists, and choir recount the betrayal, trial, and crucifixion of Jesus simply and economically. Despite Passio's mathematical precision—or, more accurately, because of it—this is music that is beautiful, contemplative, and profound, at times even overwhelming.

SMALL DONATIONS, BIG HELP

It seems a small thing but it sends a big, powerful message of caring, and you can help. St. Veronica's Guild is collecting diapers and small sized toiletries which they organize into personal care packages for Church of the Common Ground, the Church of the Holy Comforter, and Crossroads Community Ministries.

Items needed include (unopened, please) soap, shampoo, conditioner, lotion, toothbrushes, toothpaste, mouthwash, razors, shaving cream, feminine hygiene products, baby powder, and deodorant. Toiletries provided by hotels and airlines, as well as sample sizes, are ideal.

Please leave your donations at the Information Desk in the Atrium. These personal care packages are invaluable to these ministries as they work with people who are homeless, are victims of domestic violence, or have mental or emotional disabilities.

If you have questions, please contact Lane Barnum at 770-730-8177 or lbarnum6@yahoo.com.

Last summer during Youth Service week Betsy Brennan, Camilla Grayson, and Lindsey Reeves sorted women's apparel for the clothes closet at Holy Comforter Church. Cathedral Youth and St. Veronica's Guild members have donated their time, talent, and treasures to Holy Comforter.

The dinner prices are $6 for adults and $5 for children.
