Leadership: Joseph Left His Old Garments Behind

We have been taught to consider Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob as the ancestors of our faith. Those great Hebrew patriarchs, with whom God established a life-giving covenant, generation after generation, rightly merit our honor. Their actions were willful and strong; for them, their faith was reckoned to them as righteousness. May our faith, too, be counted as righteousness—as relationship—with God!

However, after the stories of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the Book of Genesis turns to Joseph. In fact, the last thirteen chapters of Genesis are devoted to Joseph. Beginning as a dreamer, and maybe even as an oblivious daydreamer, Joseph develops into a remarkably effective leader. The way Genesis recounts it, whatever Joseph touches, prospers. He is savvy. His gift of dream interpretation may well be an indication of his God-given ability to read the times well.

Joseph was born with a gift, but the gift needed development. I believe his gift of leadership can be examined by noting two of the famous garments associated with him.

Perhaps we all remember the first garment associated with Joseph. Favored by his father, Joseph received some kind of special coat. Maybe we all learned of it as the “many-colored” coat. Or, perhaps following Broadway, we know it as his “technicolor dream coat.” Later translations call it a “long-sleeved” coat, which might have been more representative and even practical.

Whatever coat it was, it represented position and honor. But it was seized from him. His resentful brothers tore it from him, dipped it in blood, and showed it to their grieving father as a sign that wild animals had killed Joseph. Joseph left that prized garment behind, but he then ended up as an honored part of the pharaoh’s household. He left the old garment behind.

Then, happily ensconced in the household of pharaoh’s officer (Potiphar), travesty struck. In one of the more risqué stories of the Bible, Joseph has to resist the seductive attempts of Potiphar’s wife. When she grabs his garment, he flees, leaving his garment in her hands; with it, she falsely accuses him. Again, he left his garment behind.

While in prison, he learns to use his dream-interpretation gift more wisely. He develops. In fact, he develops into a place of even more honor with the pharaoh, entrusted with storing up and stewarding grain for the upcoming famine. In that capacity, he is actually able to help save his family, the same brothers who had once betrayed him. His leadership saves the Hebrew people, and it continues the covenant of God.

Joseph was still another of the great leaders of scripture. There are other features of his leadership, but the ability to discard the old is a key one. He was able to leave the old garment behind, and so grow into a new garment. He is a solid lesson to us in this Lenten season. It may be that the habits or clothes that we give up during Lent must stay behind us. Only when they are discarded, even if they are sometimes ripped from us, are we able to take on the new garments of leadership and wisdom.

OLD-FASHIONED SUNDAY SCHOOL (ROOM 133)

Do you wonder sometimes what Christians are supposed to believe? This term in the Old Fashioned Sunday School we will explore what the Apostles Creed has to say about the central beliefs of the Christian faith. But, we'll do it in a slightly different way than you may have experienced in the past. Each Sunday, we'll take one of the statements made in the ancient creed and reflect on it through the lens of a more contemporary work. Using David Cunningham's book, Reading is Believing, we'll draw on novels, plays, and films by authors like Dickens, Shakespeare, P. D. James, and Graham Greene to show how the Creed can create and sustain meaning in our lives. Join us. You'll learn about the creed, of course, but we also hope that you'll deepen your own faith in the process. You'll find a light heart and a broad welcome. The class will be led by Canon George Maxwell, Canon Beth Knowlton, and Mack Leath. We look forward to seeing you there.

MARRIAGE CONVERSATIONS (ROOM 121)

Join us for "Marriage Conversations," Sundays through March 30. This course will be an opportunity for couples to get to know each other and share ways to strengthen their marriage. Luke Timothy Johnson to Lead Lenten Series

PRACTICAL CHRISTIANITY: LETTERS FROM THE LETTER OF JAMES

Wednesdays: March 19, 26 and April 2, 9 at 7 p.m. in Child Hall

Dr. Luke Timothy Johnson will lead a five-part Lenten series called Practical Christianity: Letters from the Letter of James. Possibly the earliest extant Christian composition, the Letter of James is a powerful witness to the Jesus movement in its first years, using the words of Jesus himself to shape its call to a life of integrity in the world. James does not make easy reading for comfortable believers. It uses strong language and it demands hard things of those who wish to follow Jesus, above all that faith be expressed in practical deeds. In this series of presentations, we will consider James' instruction on friendship with the world and friendship with God, on the evils of discrimination among rich and poor, on the power and peril of speech, and on the importance of forming a community of mutual care.

Luke is the Robert W. Woodruff Professor of New Testament and Christian Origins at the Candler School of Theology at Emory University. A former Benedictine monk, he has taught at Yale Divinity School and Indiana University. He is the author of more than 20 books, including The Real Jesus: The Misguided Quest for the Historical Jesus and the Truth of the Traditional Gospels, and The Writings of the New Testament: An Interpretation, which is used widely as a textbook. He has also published several hundred articles and reviews.

THE DEAN'S FORUM: LOVE LIFE SERIES

On Sunday mornings during Lent, Sam Candler will focus the "Dean's Forum" on a video faith exploration series put together by the Society of St. John the Evangelist (SSJE), one of the Episcopal Church's monastic communities. The series, "Love Life," uses short daily video clips along with passages from the Gospel of John to call us to a deeper relationship and community with our world.

You may subscribe to the SSJE series by going to SSJE.org/lovelife and signing up with your email address. You will receive an introductory email and the videos will be sent to you daily. The series begins with three short videos introducing John as the Gospel of Love and explaining what the brothers hope you will take away from it. Then the series takes up five themes which the brothers find in John's Gospel and in their lives. Each theme is introduced with a video of brothers in conversation. The theme is then explored in depth in five short reflection videos (approximately two minutes each). A compilation video is also available on the SSJE website. Each reflection video ends with a thought-provoking question for you to ponder over the course of the day, then answer on the worksheet. All the supporting materials are available to download for free or may be ordered at SSJE.org/loveliferesources.

ARVO PÄRT

GERALD FINZI
LO, THE FULL, FINAL SACRIFICE

FRIENDS OF CATHEDRAL MUSIC PRESENTS THE EMILE T. FISHER CONCERT
THE CATHEDRAL CHOIR AND SCHOLA
DALE ADELMANN, CONDUCTOR

THE CATHEDRAL OF ST. PHILIP, ATLANTA
SATURDAY, MARCH 29 | 7:30 PM

The Emile Fisher Concert

On Saturday, March 29 at 7:30 p.m., Friends of Cathedral Music will present the Emile T. Fisher Concert, featuring performances by the Cathedral Choir and Schola of two twentieth-century choral masterworks: Gerald Finzi's Lo, the Full, Final Sacrifice (1946), and Arvo Pärt's Passio Domini Nostri Jesu Christi Secundum Joannem (1982).

Finzi's extended anthem for choir and organ sets Richard Crashaw's translations of Thomas Aquinas's Eucharistic hymns "Adoro te devote" and "Lauda Sion salvatorem" to music that is harmonically lush and melodically exquisite. Pärt's Passio, arguably the most important musical setting of the passion narrative since J.S. Bach, is by contrast stark and clean.

Five instrumentalists, six soloists, and choir recount the betrayal, trial, and crucifixion of Jesus simply and economically. Despite Passio's mathematical precision—or, more accurately, because of it—this is music that is beautiful, contemplative, and profound, at times even overwhelming.

Tickets prices are: General Admission, $20 in advance and $25 day of concert; and Seniors and Students, $15 in advance and $20 day of concert. Tickets may be purchased prior to the day of the concert from the Cathedral Book Store at 404-237-7582. To purchase Patron Tickets, please contact the Cathedral Music Office at 404-365-1050 or tgunter@stphilipscathedral.org.
